The Micro-credential Professional Learning Community: A Virtual Facilitation Guide

Table of Contents

1 Background Information
   1 What is a micro-credential?
   2 Available micro-credentials
   3 Micro-credential Example: Creating a Classroom Community (Classroom Management stack)
   4 Models for supporting educators pursuing micro-credentials
   6 Resources

7 Expectations of a PLC Facilitator
   7 Facilitator tasks

7 Support Content
   7 Tips for choosing a micro-credential
   8 Tips for studying the submission guidelines for micro-credentials
   8 Tips for preparing your submission
   9 Tips for preparing a resubmission

9 Facilitation Strategies
   9 Using an existing virtual network to Provide Support
   11 Asynchronous facilitation strategies
   11 Synchronous facilitation strategies
   12 General tips for virtual facilitation

This guide is designed to provide facilitators of professional learning communities with the information, tools, and strategies needed to effectively support educators interested in earning a micro-credential. The guide is organized in four parts: Background Information, Expectations of a PLC Facilitator, Support Content, and Facilitation Strategies. Each part provides a facilitator of the micro-credential professional learning community with the basic information, resources, and tools needed to support a group of educators as they prepare and submit a micro-credential.